How Does Skin Biotix MD Nail Fungus Work?

Here is how Skin Biotix MD Nail Fungus is thought to work:

- The essential oils in the serum work to kill the fungus that causes nail fungus. Tea tree oil is one of the most effective essential oils for treating nail fungus. It has strong antifungal properties and can penetrate deep into the nail to kill the fungus. Lavender oil and peppermint oil also have antifungal properties and can help to reduce inflammation and irritation associated with nail fungus.

- The serum also helps to improve the health of the cuticles. The cuticles are the thin layer of skin that surrounds the nail. They help to protect the nail from infection. Skin Biotix MD Nail Fungus is said to help to strengthen the cuticles and make them more resistant to infection.
- The serum also helps to reduce irritation. Nail fungus can cause the nails to become brittle and break easily. This can be painful and can lead to further infection. Skin Biotix MD Nail Fungus is said to help to reduce irritation and make the nails stronger.

It is important to note that there is limited scientific evidence to support the effectiveness of Skin Biotix MD Nail Fungus in treating nail fungus. However, the ingredients in the serum have been shown to have some antifungal properties, and the serum may help to improve the appearance of the nails and reduce the symptoms of the infection.
